CONSIERATION OF GAS TARIFF REVISION

Tokyo Gas announced today that it has decided to consider revising gas tariffs for small-volume customers in order to pass on gains that it has achieved to customers during F 2013. etails are as follows.

1. Summary

In view of the growth in gas sales achieved through marketing efforts and sustained improvements in management efficiency to date, Tokyo Gas will consider revising gas tariffs for small-volume customers in order to pass on gains to customers during F 2013.

2. Outlook

The specific timing and details of the revision will be considered with a view to finalizing them around the time that first-half results are announced, by which time the income and expenditure outlook should be reasonably clear.

Tokyo Gas will continue to pursue improvements in management efficiency and step up action to achieve its “Challenge 2020 Vision” in order to live up to the trust and expectations of its customers, shareholders, and local communities.

3. Additional information

The impact of this rate revision on current-term performance (consolidated and non-consolidated) will be announced when it has evident.
